

Glimpses of MaiFS Annual Fundraiser Event Legends of Bollywood

MaiFS hosted its annual fundraiser event "Legends of Bollywood", which was a huge success. Over 700 in-town and out-of-town well-wishers of the organization attended the event. The musical show was directed and produced by the musical genius, Narendra Sheth. He brought together talented artists from far and near under the Geetmala Foundation banner for the show which was held at Seaholm High School, Birmingham. The versatile performers enchanted the audience with their beautiful voices, melodious songs and excellent musical performances. Our sincere gratitude to the Geetmala Foundation for making the evening a memorable one.

To all our well-wishers who attended our annual fundraiser event, we thank you from the bottom of our hearts. Thank you for believing in MaiFS mission and supporting it.

To our recurring and new sponsors, we are grateful for your generosity. Your continued support and contribution are the reasons MaiFS is successful in helping and empowering lives of survivors of domestic abuse and their families. THANK YOU!!!

Many sacrifice vacation days and time with friends/family to create our event each year – all in the name of making a difference in the lives of survivors of domestic abuse. Book Review

Daring Greatly by Brené Brown, Ph.D., LMSW

Daring Greatly was one of the many discussion materials provided to me by MCEDSV for my MCEDSV 2019 Cohort Emerging Leader training. I found the book very inspirational, engaging and eye opening. I would definitely recommend it to anyone that is looking to improve their relationships and more importantly, the way we treat ourselves. It really opens your eyes to how important it is to be open and vulnerable. Brown opens up and shares her own vulnerabilities and shares the stories of many people. Each story gives you a new perspective on vulnerability and makes it much easier to identify in your own life.

Inspirational and Engaging! *****
